Certificate of Finances

for residents of Canada

The United States Department of Homeland Security requires each educational institution to obtain evidence of the financial support from each student prior to issuing a Form I-20 or DS-2019.

You are responsible for demonstrating sufficient funds to meet all educational and personal expenses for the duration of your F-1 status at the University of North Dakota.

You must certify that you have at least the amount necessary to cover your tuition, fees, and living expenses for the duration of your first year of study.

The evidence you provide must be official documents (in English) and all must be less than 6 months old.

The following types of financial documentation can be accepted and you may use a combination of resources:

- Bank statement or certificate of balance/certificate of deposit signed by a bank official on official bank letterhead indicating the current balance from yourself, your family or another individual sponsor. Note: Bank documentation must be from a checking, savings, or time deposit account. Brokerage (stock funds), property or real estate, life insurance, jewelry, or any other non-liquid assets are NOT ACCEPTABLE. Also, the type of currency must be clearly indicated on the financial documentation.
- For students who are sponsored by an international organization, government, or institution: A scholarship or sponsorship letter is required, which verifies the amount, source, and length of award

SECTION 2: SOURCES AND AMOUNTS OF FINANCIAL SUPPORT

Please see the corresponding column for costs of your enrollment type.

If you are a graduate student with an assistantship, this will affect the amount of credits required for full-time status and the amount of money needed to prove.
